FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Solium's CEO to Step Down; Jeff English to Succeed Brian Craig

CALGARY, April 6, 2006 — Solium Capital Inc. (“Solium” or the “Company”) announces that Brian Craig will step down as Chief Executive Officer of Solium immediately following the Annual and Special Meeting of Shareholders on May 4, 2006. The Board of Directors is pleased to announce that Jeff English, the current President of Solium, has accepted the position of Chief Executive Officer, effective May 4, 2006.

Mr. Craig will remain as an officer of the Company in a part time role relating to the development of new strategic initiatives and will also continue in his current role as a director of the Company. Mr. Craig is stepping down in his current full time role as Chief Executive Officer in order to spend more time with his family and pursue other professional interests.

The Board of Directors would like to thank Mr. Craig for the exemplary vision and leadership he has given the Company over the past four years. Mr. Craig assumed the role of CEO at a time when the Company was struggling financially. He provided strategic clarity, melded a cohesive team of dedicated professionals, and inspired confidence within Solium’s existing and prospective clients. As Mr. Craig steps down from the role of CEO he does so with the full support and gratitude of the Board, at a time when Solium is the recognized leader in Employee Equity Compensation administration in Canada, has a strong balance sheet and is poised for continued success. We look forward to his continuing leadership and involvement as a member of the Board.

Mr. English initially joined Solium as Vice President, Market Development in 2004. Previously, Mr. English held the position of Vice President and Director, Energy Origination, TD Commodity and Energy Trading Inc., a unit of TD Securities. Previous to his role with TD Securities, Mr. English spent 12 years with Engage Energy Canada LP in progressively senior marketing roles.
